Main idea	The primary purpose of the session was to acquaint students with the basics of Derivatives and how to invest in Future and Options Derivatives are financial instruments that derive their value from an underlying asset or security. Some common examples of derivatives include options, futures, and swaps. During the seminar, the students learnt about the different types of derivatives and how they work, as well as the risks and benefits associated with trading them. Focus was also put on making students understand the role of derivatives in financial markets and how they can be used to manage risk.

	One important concept learnt about is hedging, which involves using derivatives to offset potential losses from other investments.
