

Panel Discussion on Colonialism in India: White men's Burden or White men's Business.

An Intra-College Panel Discussion was organized by Virsa: The History Society on 2nd of March 2021 at 3 PM on Google Meet on Colonialism in India: White men's Burden or White men's Business. The Convenor of the department Mr. RK Sharma gave the opening notes, followed by the presentation of participants. Majority of the participants were from the first year itself, which was the best thing about the event, that the students are enthusiastic to participate in events like these from the first semester onwards. Each and every participant was enthusiastic in their respective speeches and gave philosophical, economic and social perspectives. The discussion was very engaging, with interjections and questions from not only the participants but from the teachers and audiences as well, which were all very well answered. It was a very balanced discussion with no personal biases and grievances. The ending remarks were given by both Mr. RK Sharma and Dr. Baljeet Singh.
