

Title of the Event: Orientation Session

Organizer: KIRT- The Economics and Business Economics Society

Date: 29th November 2021

Number of participants: 70

KIRT: The Economics and Business Economics of Sri Guru Nanak Dev Khalsa organized an online orientation program for the new batch of students of economics and business economics. The program started with our cultural prayer followed by the welcome address by Dr. Ghanshyam Bairwa, convenor of the department. Dr. Meena Singh, a senior faculty of the department explained the rules and regulations of the college and the course structure with special emphasis on the CBCS structure. She encouraged students to do well in their courses and do utter hard work in whichever field they will go further. The society hosted the event and gave a brief about the society; encouraging them to participate. The representatives of Placement Cell presented a short presentation in order to cover the placement aspect of the college. All the queries of the students were taken up by the faculty members at the end.
