Name of Event: EMANATION
Date: 12th February, 2018

KIRT in collaboration with VANAJ (The Commerce Society of Sri Guru Nanak Dev Khalsa College), organized the Annual Commerce and Economics Fest – EMANATION 2.0. The fest comprised 8 events, with some amazing cash prizes worth Rs 2 lacs, some to test your Economics, some to judge your trading ability and some to see how well you negotiate. The fest had a well thought combination of events, which assured its success and an even more promising performance in the coming years.

Island of the Dead provided students a platform to show their negotiating skills.

Corporate Dilemma was a platform which consisted of a set of tasks to check their skills both physically and mentally.

KIRT organized an ecovaganza which gave an opportunity to test students' economics knowledge and have fun along with it.

Trading Tussle was a mock stock event where the participants were supposed to use their luck, speculation, financial skill, and strategies. This event gave the participants a practical experience of the stock market.

Khalsa Business League was an event for explaining business and commerce aspects and competing with other potential business enthusiasts.

CLICK-O-LOGY Was an on-the-spot photography competition. The theme was provided to click on the spot and the best submission wins.

Ad-o-holic was a competition wherein the participants had to make interesting and captivating ads in order to promote a product or service.
