COMPUTER AND PUNJABI LANGUAGE

A 30 hour short term course on 'Computer and Punjabi Language' was conducted by the Punjabi department at Guru Nanak Dev Khalsa College. It teaches basic computer skills as well as technical knowledge and usage. Classes for this course are held two days a week on Fridays and Saturdays. The basic and technical knowledge of computer was given by senior teacher Dr. Rajiv Midda. In which he explained the basics as well as PPT, Excel , word processing and Internet.

In this course, Dr. C.P. Kamboj of Patiala University explained and given the advanced knowledge of fonts related to Punjabi language, translation as well as use of Punjabi language in smartphones.

The feature and specialty of this course was that along with the students, many teachers like Dr. BhupinderPal Singh Bakshi, Dr. Paramjit Kaur and Dr. Rajwant Singh, Dr. Prithviraj Thapar of Dyal Singh College, Simran Sethi of Ramanujan College, Dr. Paramjit Kaur Kamboj, Dr. Amarjeet Kaur of Mata Sundri College as well as students of all these colleges including khalsa college were also joined. All this information and training was so interesting that the three-hour class often ended much later. The students and teachers asked many questions about the difficulties encountered while learning, which proved to be useful for all. This entire course was done by speaking in Punjabi.

The whole responsibility of designing and arranging this course was done by Dr. Vinayneet Kaur. In which the convener of the department Dr. Barjinder Chowhan and Dr. Jaswinder Kaur Bindra gave her full support. For the success of the course, the college principal Dr. Gurmohinder Singh and Dr. Niti Dhingra of IQAC, congratulated and agreed to continue this course.
