

Question Bank (English/MIL English B – Semester 1)

1. You visited a government hospital in Delhi this morning to meet your uncle. Write a diary entry noting the details of your experience.
2. Draft an unsolicited cover letter to apply for an internship at a major publishing house.
3. You recently purchased a television set, which was later found to be damaged. But, the company is refused to refund, return or exchange the same. Draft a formal letter to Mr. Bajaj, a consumer court judge asking his suggestions regarding the procedure for filing a case against the defaulter company.
4. Write a review of a recent book you read and liked specifically discussing the plot, themes, characters, perspectives, as well as its strengths and weaknesses.
5. Draft a review of the latest film you have watched on any OTT platform.
6. You recently encountered an eve teasing incident in your locality. Draft a written FIR with all the information relevant to the incident.
7. Prepare a blog post on the relationship between food, culture and belongingness.
8. Edit the following passage:

Sorrow being the supreme emotion of which man is capable, is at once the type and test of all great art. What the artist was always looking for is the mode of existence in which soul and body are one and indivisible; in which the outward is expressive of the inward: in which form reveal. Behind joy and laughter there may be a temperament, coarse, hard and callous. But behind sorrow there is always sorrow. Pain, unlike pleasure, wears no mask. Truth in art is the unity of a thing with itself: the outward rendered expressive of the inward, the soul made incarnate, the body instinct with spirit. For this reason there is no truth comparable to sorrow. There are times when sorrow seems to me to be only truth. Other things may be illusions of the eye or the appetite, made to blind the one and cloy the other, but out of sorrow have the worlds being built and at the birth of a child or a star there is pain.
9. Write an essay on the role of cinema in providing different perspectives on understanding and living life.
10. How do you think the right to file an RTI request empowers citizens?