

Canon Photography Workshop in collaboration with Photobug and DUPC

19th September 2018

Brief Report

Photobug- The Photography society of SGND Khalsa college in collaboration with Delhi University Photographer's club (DUPC) organized the second Canon workshop in the college on September 19, 2018. The workshop was based on the theme "Low Light Photography". Mr Virendra Adhikari, mentor, Canon India, was once again the resource person for the event. Mr Virendra is also a freelance photographer and has ample experience in product, landscape and portrait photography.

Mr. Manik Singh and Ms. Anushka welcomed the guests and the resource person and briefed all the participants regarding the society and the event. Following this, Mr Virendra went about explaining some important concepts and points about low light Photography. He also provided very useful tips to enhance creativity and perfection one can bring in low light photography. The theoretical session was followed by a hands on training session during which the members were given time for clicking pictures of various objects while playing around with camera settings and the light source. Participants put forward a number of doubts, especially during the practical session, and all these doubts and queries were properly clarified the resource person.

A total of twenty five photography enthusiasts from our college and other DU colleges participated in the workshop. Overall, it was a very interactive and informative workshop delivered in a fun filled manner. The event culminated with a group photograph of all participants along with Mr Virendra.

We thank all the participants for their enthusiastic participation.
