Activities

On 15th October, the members of Project S.E.V.A visited Guru Nanak Sukhshala Old Age Home in Rajinder Nagar, Delhi, with the aim of spending meaningful time with the elderly residents and offering them companionship and respect.

On arrival, the team was warmly welcomed by the Manager, Mr. Harvinder Singh Narula, and the Chairman, Mr. Harvinder Singh Bobby, who is well known for his tourist services and his long, accomplished career. Their cooperation and hospitality helped the visit run smoothly.
As a small gesture of care, the students brought snacks and distributed them to all the residents as well as the staff members of the home. The residents received the gesture with warmth and blessings, and the staff were equally appreciative.

The students then spent the evening with the elders, sitting with them, talking to them and patiently listening to their life stories. The staff also shared their own experiences and thoughts about their time at the home, giving the students a better understanding of the daily life, needs and emotions of the residents.

Several students, including Samarth, Simarpreet, Janvi Jaskaran and Himanshu, along with the President of the society, Palki Munjal, shared personal experiences about their bond with their own grandparents and spoke about the importance of parents in life. These moments were deeply emotional for many of the students and reminded all the participants how precious family relationships are. In return, the residents offered their own wisdom, and the students learned a great deal from them. For all the participants, the visit became a lifelong learning experience.

Main Ideas

The students spent valuable time with respected elders, listened to their life experiences, and gained meaningful insights from their wisdom and journeys. This thoughtful interaction was a matter of great pride and happiness for all of us. We firmly believe that serving our elders, bringing smiles to their faces, and ensuring their happiness and dignity is our responsibility. We will continue our efforts to make their lives more joyful, comfortable, and fulfilling.
