Organized by: Asankh Mathematics Society

Date: 24th January 2019

Number of participants: 35

Report of the event: On 24th January, 2019, the society conducted paper presentations for all the students of mathematics department in order to widen the communicative skills and technical knowledge of the students. The topics included the beauty concepts of Fibonacci, mathematics in music etc.

Students from all years presented the papers. The event commenced at 11 a.m. after the felicitation of the judges, with the participating teams eager to present their ideas and innovations. Fielding question after question by the judges, the participants displayed their undying thirst for knowledge, whilst showcasing their immense interest and the astonishing amount of effort and research put into each of their individual presentations.

Three students were selected to be the finalists and participation certificates were given to all the participants.

The event was a roaring success thanks to the efforts of the students of all years of mathematics department, the numerous participants and the untiring guidance of our professors.
