

Photowalk to Surajkund

13th February 2020

Brief Report

Photobug, the photography society, organised a Photowalk to the famous Surajkund Mela held in Faridabad on 13th February 2020. The Surajkund Mela showcases the richness and diversity of India's handicrafts, handlooms, and cultural fabric. Surajkund Mela is a unique international craft festival for all the artists to showcase their culture and talent from across the globe. It is also a wonderful place for photography lovers to use their creative talent and capture amazing images

Members of the society gathered at the entry point of the mela at 10:00 am. The members were divided into two groups. The members were asked to click photographs as well as create short videos. The groups moved through the entire breadth and length of the mela, capturing various moments, till 4 pm. In between, the members had delicious lunch in the food stalls set up in the mela.

The Photowalk to Surajkund gave the members a chance to capture the amazing talents of craftsmen from different parts of the country. Not only did the Photowalk hone the members to bring out the most colourful and vivid photographs of the exquisite craft, providing them with millions of emotions to capture, but it also gave a chance to the team to learn together alongside witnessing the beautiful and diverse works of artsmen. It was indeed a very memorable photowalk for everyone.
