

RESOLVING MANDI DURING NAKABANDI (RMDN)

Date : 13th April, 2020

Participants : 200 registrations (Round 1)

10 finalists (Round 2)

Feedback form : <https://bit.ly/3a5MOBB>

Coronavirus has impacted our lives in numerous ways. However, SOFICA is as driven and zealous as always, carrying out our mission to empower and equip students with the paraphernalia of the financial world. Amidst the ongoing lockdown, conducted an online event to engage students from all colleges of India. The event was called RESOLVING MANDI DURING NAKABANDI - an online Case study and Economic policy drafting competition on 13th April, 2020.

The event had a preliminary Round of Quiz, followed by the extensive Round 2 where the participants had to analyze rigorously drafted Case Studies about the Financial crisis post the Covid-19 impact in different countries. The facts and figures provided, the participants were given a time limit of 1.5 hours for making their submissions.

At stake were annual subscriptions and gift vouchers from Zee5, Mnytra and Swiggy.

Although we wish that our choices weren't limited to a trifecta, we had to select the best of the best. Team A, a duet of Jivesh Madan and Kritika Grover from IIT DELHI, Sanjana Yadav, an individual participant from NSIT, New Delhi and Pranav Jha, an individual participant from Hindu College secured the first, second and third position respectively.