

Bisman Centre for Human Values

BISMAN-the Centre for Human Values, under the aegis of Dr. Bhagwant Kour remains busy throughout the year. It gives the students of the college the space to explore and expand upon their compassion and commitment towards the world around them. It holds regular meetings in which the students are taught the value of being empathetic.

In keeping with the college tradition of promoting inclusion and diversity, and encourage a pluralistic culture in the institution, Bisman—the Centre for Human Values was instituted in the academic session of 2018-19 to enable students to imbibe ethical and moral values. The aim of the centre is to create well-educated, humble and concerned citizens who will step out of college ready to serve society in the best possible way.

2018-19

In its inaugural event, the eminent personality Bhupinder Singh ji (USA) wale presented a talk on the essential values of Sikhism. The event was a grand success, with the speaker winning everyone's hearts with his endearing manner of speaking.

The Centre also conducted programmes throughout the year for the students. On the Founders' Day too, the society members participated in the celebrations and did langar sewa.

Bisman aims at making the students' lives more productive, and full of positivity.
