The Entrepreneurial Bazaar

Date : 8 february 2018

Venue :Parking area

The Entrepreneurial Bazaar was one of the five events of Tvesh'18 organised by SOFICA and Udyamita- The E-Cell of SGND Khalsa College on 8th February 2018 at Sri Guru Nanak Dev Khalsa College, University of Delhi. The event began right after the inaugural ceremony which was addressed by the principal of SGND Khalsa College Dr. Man Mohan Kaur, vice principal Dr. Gurmohinder Singh, our convener Dr. G.S. Sood and other professors.

Dr. Man Mohan Kaur, Dr. Gurmohinder Singh and Dr. GS Sood cutting the ribbon for inauguration.

The E-Bazaar was organised in the college compound where stalls had been put up for the competitors to sell their products. It was coordinated by Mrs. Silky Jain. In all thirteen teams from various colleges had participated in the competition which lasted three hours from 12pm to 3pm. All the teams were judged on three criteria i.e. revenue, stall decoration and marketing and judge's Q&A. Dr. DPS Sood, Dr. Jasmine Kaur and Ms. Gurneet Kaur were the three jury members who judged all the participating teams one by one.

Ishmeet Kaur, Komal and Simar of SGND Khalsa College who were selling jute and cotton bags bagged the first place and a cash prize of Rs 3500 with net sales of about Rs 6500.

In all, the total sale was more than Rs 30,000 which in itself proves that the event was a huge success.

In short the very first E-Bazaar of SGND Khalsa College was a grand success by the efforts of students, teachers and principal. We look forward to organise more such events.

Ruminate-The student Panel Discussion

Date : 8 february 2018

Venue : Seminar hall

It is better to debate a question without settling it than to settle a question without debating it.

With this very idea in our kind we started the event "ruminate".

47 students from various colleges registered for our event from which team ruminare shortlisted 15 students.

We began with our event by 11:30, as soon as the inaugural ended.

The audience and participants were seated and the judges were facilitated by our teacher coordinators.

We began the event by allotting numbers to the participants from one to fifteen.

There were 3 panel discussions with 5 participants per discussion.

Number one to five were part of the first panel discussion and then five to ten were in the 2nd discussion and the remaining were in the 3rd discussion.

The audience was very participant throughout the event by asking questions related to the topic of the panel discussion.

After all the 3 rounds prizes were given to the best panelist in each panel and to the top 3 interjectors

JUDGED - Consumer Court Simulation

Date : 8 february 2018

Venue : Garden area

“Customers don't expect you to be perfect but they expect you to fix things when they go wrong”.

JUDGED was a platform where participants experienced the real life court environment of consumer rights and fights and got the chance to peep into real life cases by being their representatives, fighting for own and thus unleashing the sides still not known.

The simulation compelled the participants to scratch their brains and present the heated arguments. It was overwhelming to get huge registrations and participation from students of various institutions.

The event began by felicitation of our esteemed jury Mr G.K.Arora , CA Harjinder Singh, Mrs. Neeta Dhingra, CA D.S.Sharma and Mrs. Sukhwinder Kaur.

The competition started with a preliminary round ie. A questionnaire based on consumer awareness. The neck to neck competition lead the teams to cross the tie breakers to make it to the finals .The battle of words folded up in the next round and the participants very well took forward their points and it sounded interesting. The judges actively gave their opinion and judgement in respective areas and was acknowledged by the participants and jury.

FINQUEST – A Game of Finance

Date : 8 february 2018

Venue : Gallery

Financial terms often cause fireworks in head. To test a person's edge over finance and it's terms, a game of finance was held on 8th February, 2018. It was one of a kind event wherein a person was supposed to guess the word and impart some knowledge to the audience present. After all, you can still have fun while learning. The event began with the felicitation of our esteemed judges Mr. Ishmeet Singh, Mr. Ashish Thomas, Ms. Gurjot Kaur, Ms. Preeti Gupta. There were great number of entries. It started with the first round Dumbcharades wherein some financial terms were thrown and the participants need to guess that right. The qualified candidates then went to the II round ie. Taboo wherein the financial term needs to be identified by guessing the word on the card without saying the listed words and avoid making it a Taboo. The winners and the runner ups were awarded with cash prizes and certificates. The event was much appreciated and this angle of learning while having oodles of fun made it different from others.

Finders and Keepers- The treasure hunt

Date : 8 february 2018

Venue : College premises

Tvesh organized a treasure hunt on 8th February. Maximum of 2 students could form a team. The students were supposed to follow a series of clues leading to different places inside the college campus to reach the final destination. At each location there was an activity planned for them which they were supposed to complete under the supervision of our teacher codinator only then they will get the next clue. Clues comprised of puzzles and riddles whereas activities comprised from quizzes to performing tasks. The first team to reach the final destination and completing its task won the treasure hunt.
