<ul style="list-style-type: none">• Activities:• Welcoming of freshers.• Introduction of faculty members of Political Science Department.• Presentation regarding Civil Society and brief introduction of course structure. Power point presentation was specifically used to help students understand their department well, covering all aspects, from its origin to the faculty details, a broader view of the department is presented to all the students.• Students were informed about the courses they are going to be study, how that course objectives/ program objectives will be delivered, and how the assessment process will be taking place. Apart from this, all the faculty members attended the orientation and address the students in a warm and welcoming manner. As orientation is a practice which department has been following as a rigorous ritual, and this does helps students in getting the sense of their prospective teachers. The orientation also addressed the queries and concerns of the students as well. In this way, additionally it works as an ice breaking activity which enhanced the quality of engagement between students and teachers.
Main Ideas: The main idea of the event was introducing the students with the department keeping this in mind, students were familiarized with the vision, purpose, objectives of the department.
