Introduction to the Speaker	We were honoured to welcome Ms. Alka AI Director at S&P Global and Dr. Anurag Agnihotri assistant professor at College of Vocational Studies University of Delhi, to lead the lecture. With their expertise, they brought invaluable insights to the session and we were privileged to have them share their knowledge.
Activities	The workshop was highly interactive and intellectually stimulating, encouraging active participation from students throughout the sessions. Both speakers fostered an open and engaging environment where participants felt comfortable asking questions and sharing their perspectives on the evolving role of artificial intelligence in finance. Several queries related to AI-driven trading, risk modelling, and real-world financial applications were raised and addressed in a clear and practical manner. The speakers simplified complex concepts, making them accessible and relatable for students from diverse academic backgrounds. In addition to the formal sessions, the workshop included insightful discussions and real-life examples from the industry, which enhanced the overall learning experience. Students actively engaged in conversations around algorithmic decision-making, data-driven strategies, and the future of finance in an AI-dominated world. The sessions also involved thought-provoking questions posed by the speakers, encouraging participants to think critically about how technology is transforming financial systems and career opportunities in this domain. Overall, the workshop successfully combined academic knowledge with practical insights, creating an engaging and enriching learning experience for all participants.
Main Ideas

SRI GURU NANAK DEV KHALSA COLLEGE

Dev Nagar, Delhi - 110005

The workshop focused on the growing integration of artificial intelligence in the field of finance and its impact on decision-making, investment strategies, and risk management. The speakers highlighted how AI is being used to generate alpha, automate trading processes, and enhance financial efficiency.

It was emphasized that the rise of quantitative funds, algorithmic trading, and predictive analytics is reshaping the traditional financial landscape. The sessions also explored how global financial institutions are leveraging AI to improve accuracy, reduce risks, and make faster, data-driven decisions.

Additionally, the importance of adapting to technological advancements and developing relevant analytical skills was discussed, as the future of finance becomes increasingly dependent on automation and intelligent systems.

Overall, the workshop conveyed that the financial world is undergoing a significant transformation, where the integration of AI is not only enhancing existing systems but also redefining the way financial markets operate.

Vote of thanks

The Convenor of the Society, Dr Anju Dagar, thanked the dedicated faculty for their unwavering support for giving the students a real-life experience on how AI, Finance and industries work.
