Activities (if any)

The International Conference on Commerce and Culture in the Digital Era: Navigating Challenges and Opportunities witnessed enthusiastic participation from undergraduate students and research scholars across the University of Delhi and other institutions.

The conference served as a dedicated platform for 4th-year undergraduate students to present and discuss their research work across diverse interdisciplinary themes related to commerce, economics, management, culture, technology, and digital transformation.

Inaugural Session:

The conference commenced with a Divinity Prayer and Lighting of the Lamp, followed by addresses from the Principal, distinguished guests, and keynote speakers. The session focused on the growing relevance of interdisciplinary research in the digital era and encouraged students to actively engage in academic inquiry and innovation.

Technical Sessions – Research Paper Presentations:

The conference featured parallel technical sessions conducted across multiple venues within the college. Around 50 student research papers were presented through structured presentation sessions followed by interactive discussions and Q&A.

Each presentation was evaluated and guided by session chairs, providing students with valuable academic exposure and constructive feedback.

Valedictory and Certificate Distribution:

The conference concluded with a valedictory session and distribution of certificates to participants in recognition of their academic contribution and participation.

Main Ideas

1. Promotes undergraduate research culture by providing students with a platform to present and discuss academic work.
2. Encourages interdisciplinary learning through themes integrating commerce, culture, technology, and society.
3. Enhances research, analytical, and presentation skills through formal paper presentations and discussions.
4. Builds academic confidence and professional communication abilities through interaction with experts and peers.
5. Provides exposure to conference-based academic environments, fostering critical thinking and scholarly engagement.
